EFFECTIVE DATE

February 25, 2011

The stay of the action against your driving privilege in this case has been ended. The probation and suspension of your driving privilege is effective February 25, 2011. The suspension will remain in effect through August 24, 2011 and the probation will continue through February 24, 2012.

is hereinafter also known as "Respondent."

The following findings and determinations are the results of your Hearing on February 10, 2011.

FINDINGS OF FACTNegligent Operator Points:

Respondent's driving record has accrued a total of 4 negligent operator points within 12 months because of the following:

Point Count Violations -

- * 01 {Speed - Out of State Violation} occurring on 11/20/2009 and carries a point count of 1.
- * 01 {Speed - Out of State Violation} occurring on 03/11/2010 and carries a point count of 1.
- * 01 {Speed - Out of State Violation} occurring on 05/12/2010 and carries a point count of 1.
- * 01 {Speed - Out of State Violation} occurring on 09/28/2010 and carries a point count of 1.

The evidentiary basis for the finding on the negligent operator issue is:

- ° DMV's Exhibit: DMV Driving Record Printout

II

Amount of Use/Miles Traveled:

Due consideration was given to Respondent's use of a vehicle and the miles she travels as follows: Respondent stated that she drives 20,000 miles per year. This includes six to seven trips from California to for business.

The following is the evidentiary basis for the Amount of Use/Miles Traveled findings:

- ° Respondent's testimony.

III

Additional Findings:

° Other Finding: Respondent testified that each state has different speed limits and it can get confusing as to what the speed limit is. Respondent stated that she uses the cruise control but when she has to apply the brakes, the cruise control is deactivated. Respondent also testified that she will take more breaks while driving so that she may be able to see the signs on the road. Respondent indicated that she was sorry for speeding.

Counsel is requesting that a higher point count should be considered for Respondent because of her work which requires her to drive from California to . Since Respondent works out of state, she travels more miles per year than the average driver. Counsel is requesting either probation or a restricted license, to and from work.

Respondent stated during her testimony that she is not paying attention to the road signs. Respondent's driving record which dates back to 2002 indicates a lot of citations for speeding. Respondent had a prior Negligent Operator action and had a hearing for that action. As a driver, it is your responsibility to pay attention to the posted speed limit and travel within the posted speed limit. Respondent continues to speed and continues to demonstrate negligence. This is based on the evidence presented and the fact that Respondent is still not paying attention to the road signs and her speed.

Respondent's request for a restricted license was considered, but denied. All speeding citations causing the negligent operator suspension were received while Respondent was traveling to or from work.
